Not including the floor, there are three objects in the room that you could reasonably sit on. Pick the one that would feel the hardest.

Find the door to the right of the board.

Find the object shaped almost like a flat rocket ship. It is has a relatively soft fabric on top to support clothes and metal legs for stability. It is currently folded and hanging on the wall.

Look for the box that says "Irish Springs" on it. The bed of interest is the one that is closest to the desk supporting that box.

This dormitory-style object is covered by cotton fabrics and in front of a stack of papers with the number, "150" in big font.

There are two prominently red objects in the room. This is the one not next to the wall.

There is a row of black rolling chairs along the wall. Pick the one furthest to the left when facing them.

Find a circular object that you would normally sleep on at night.
